Upon filing the answer the Pennsylvania Railroad Company entered an appeal to the Court of Appeals and gave an appeal indemnity bond for $250,000. This appeal and bond dissolves the injunction.

INCENDIARISM.

CHATHAM, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Three incendiary fires were started in close succession here and destroyed the Courier building, the postoffice and several stores. The loss is $25,000. Citizens have been sworn in as special police and are watching the city.

FIRE IN A SHIP'S HOLD.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Fire this morning was discovered in the cotton in the hold of Charged with Illegal Voting.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 23.—A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of John H. McGowan, a postal clerk on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway, running from Pittsburg to Crestline, and living at Poisonous Candy.

 ERIE, Pa., Oct. 23.—Yesterday the authorities stopped the sale of the "Little Me mechanic Candy," made in Buffalo. The candy is attached to a little copper hatchet, and a thick deposit of verdigris was found upon a specimen. The late wholesale poisoning of school children is attributed to its use, and the animal down whose throat the tainted candy was forced is not expected to live.

Mr. Powers and the Tariff.

"They are charging me with being a 'free trader.' That is false and Mr. Wadsworth and his friends know it. I stand by the Democratic platform which gives no uncertain sound as to 'tariff.'"

FRANK POWERS.

That is what Mr. Powers writes with his own hand, and that is where the BULLETIN placed him, and by his authority. He does not mean that he should be misunderstood, and to that end has made his meaning so plain that anybody can comprehend it. Any man who puts him in a position respecting the tariff not in accord with the National Democratic platform misrepresents him.

Not for Ashbury.

MAISON COUNTY, Ky., Oct. 23, 1884.
I, W. W. Ball, Clerk of the County Court, for the county as aforesaid, do hereby certify that an election held on August 8, 1884, in said county, Ky., for the office of Governor, was held for Thomas S. Morrow, for Governor; for Speed S. Fry, for Lieutenant Governor; for G. G. Garrison, for Attorney General; for L. R. Hawthorne, for Auditor; for Edward Farley, for Treasurer; for J. P. Pinkerton, for Superintendent of Public Instruction; for Register of the Land Office, he did not vote; and for Representative he voted for A. A. Wadsworth, all of which are the names of the poll books of said election, for said county, on file in my office.

(Given under my hand this 27th day of September, 1884.)
Clerk Mason County, Ky.
Proof can be produced that when Mr. Wadsworth handed his ticket to the judge of the election he said: "I will vote that ticket with the exception of the negro." We will pay a reward to any man who can produce a letter signed by W. H. Wadsworth, Sr., the Republican candidate for Congress, that declares he voted for Ashbury, the colored candidate for Register of the Land Office.

Cannot Support Him.

The following letter has been addressed to Mr. Wadsworth by Mr. Charles F. Taylor, one of the leading citizens of this county:

"Hm, W. H. Wadsworth, Having told you 'I would vote for you I desire to rescind that promise, as I cannot support a man who is affiliated with the party that supports the United States Deputy Marshals to shoot down peaceable citizens in the exercise of their legal rights, as in Ohio on Tuesday last."
C. F. TAYLOR.

That "Conversation."

MAVILLVILLE, Ky., October 11, 1884.
"In our conversation which we had with Mr. Frank Powers he did not say that he would vote for the Union men, if elected, and said nothing in the course of the conversation which, in our judgment, should be construed into any other than a strict accordance with the Democratic platform of the tariff. We agreed with Mr. Powers perfectly in regard to the tariff, having no idea of 'free trade,' which neither of us favor. Our understanding of his favoring a large reduction of the tariff was that he wished the large surplus of revenue to be reduced, at the same time equalizing the inequality of the existing tariff."

THE BULLETIN has never stigmatized the Union men as "tyrants," "hang men," "bushwackers," etc., as the Eagle charges. We never used the term "halter" in connection with anybody except Mr. Wadsworth, the Republican candidate for Congress. He said on the floor of the House of Representatives that he would never be satisfied until "the leaders and the controllers in the council and the field were brought to the halter." We spoke from the record only, and repeated what Mr. Wadsworth had said to the people of the nation. We have not traduced and vilified him by speaking the truth. It is the truth and his friends can only apologize for the inhuman utterance. They cannot deny that he made it.

A GENTLEMAN from Cincinnati, in Mayville yesterday, says that on election day he spent about an hour at the Sixth Ward polls, and there counted eighty-five negroes armed with clubs and bulldog revolvers. Many of them were in rage, indicating that they had been beaten from the slums. They were brutal in their bearing to voters, and their presence deterred many persons entitled to vote from attempting to do so. Going down Main street a little later he says he met three negroes, two of whom had a bulldog revolver in each hand, and one of them said: "I am going to shoot the first Democratic—a fellow who has a Sheriff's badge on."

Mr. Wadsworth belongs to the party responsible for this, and the guns fired from the top of his hill last week speak his approval of the infamy of his party. He can hardly expect Democrats to unite with him in approving such acts.

MORE BLAINE LETTERS.

All About His Famous Illness—The Precious correspondence of James G. Blaine and His Agent.

[New York Post.]

Boston, October 17.—If any further proofs were needed to show the terror with which Mr. James G. Blaine contemplated the possible production of the additional letters of his in the hands of Warren H. Mulligan, it is furnished in those obtained. In order to inform the reader as to the true relevance of these letters, it is necessary to recall the incidents immediately connected with their contents.

On June 5, 1876, Mr. Blaine made his dramatic explanation to 44,000 of his countrymen, and read the letters he had practically stolen from Mulligan. At the request of Mr. Blaine, the committee investigating his case adjourned from Saturday, June 10th, to the following Monday, in consequence of the absence of his colleagues, Messrs. Hale and Frye. On Sunday, June 11, Mr. Blaine sank down on the church steps, complaining of a pain in his head, and saying he was afraid he would die. On Monday, June 12th, the committee met and dismissed the witnesses for two weeks on account of Mr. Blaine's illness. On the following day Mr. Blaine sent the following dispatch:

Eugene Hale, Cincinnati, Ohio: I am entirely convalescent, suffering only from the effects of the exposure upon my friends the debt of gratitude I feel for the unparalleled steadfastness with which they have adhered to me in my hour of trial.

Mr. Hayes was nominated by the National Republican Convention June 16th, and on the Monday following, June 19th, Mr. Blaine made a ratification speech in Washington. As the date for the re-assembly of the committee of investigation was set for the 15th of the following month, Mr. Blaine's health failed rapidly, and at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday, June 27th, he left Washington by special car for his home in Augusta. On the same day Messrs. Fisher and Mulligan arrived in Washington to continue their testimony. A despatch to the Boston Herald of the 28th of June says: "They were greatly annoyed at being detained until Friday, to which date the committee had adjourned."

The special car in which Mr. Blaine traveled went direct to Augusta, so that he was not seen at New York or Boston en route. He reached home Wednesday, June 28th, and that very night wrote the following urgent letter to Mr. Fisher, which is here published for the first time, the italics being Mr. Blaine's:

Worcester, 28th.—EVENING.
My Dear Mr. Fisher: I want to see you just as much as before you went to Washington. I want to leave Boston at half-past twelve, and return some night if you desire, though I would prefer to have you stay over. Come directly to my home. It is to me as important for you to see me as for me to see you. Come this week. Don't fail. Come tomorrow, if possible. Yours,
J. G. BLAINE.

This letter pretty clearly indicates the malady of which Mr. Blaine was a victim. A dispatch to the Boston Herald, dated Thursday, June 29, says that Mr. Blaine suffered no serious setback by his journey, and was then enjoying the rest and freedom from the excitement of the campaign. It contained: "Dr. Hill, his family physician, says that there is no organic trouble, but that the nervous prostration, complicated with marital difficulties, is more severe than he has calculated from what he had read of the case. He has adopted a careful line of treatment, prescribing absolute rest, even forbidding Mr. Blaine write a letter. He gives him no assurance that he will be able to take any part in the coming campaign."

This was on Thursday, and yet the following letter, written two days later, shows that Mr. Blaine knew better what medicine he wanted than his family physician. Here, too, the italics are Mr. Blaine's:

[Private]
Augusta, Saturday Eve., July 1, '76.
"My Dear Mr. Fisher—I write from my sick bed. I want very much to see you. I am very sorry you did not come to Washington as requested. Can you come to Augusta by train Monday? The express train leaves Eastern station at 9 o'clock, reaching here at four in the afternoon. You can return the same evening. Or, if you can't come by the 9 o'clock train, is a train that leaves at 12 or half-past 12 noon and gets here about 8 in the evening. You can return the same night. Do come quickly. Say nothing to any one. But do come. Yours sincerely,
J. G. BLAINE.

(See over.) Important to you as well as myself that you come. Very."

"Don't let any human being except your wife know that you are coming down. But do not fail to come—whatever you do, do not fail. You will regret it if you don't come."

Could anything be more abject in its pleading than this? But it was not the last of this remarkable series of letters.

On the following day he wrote again as follows:

"Sunday Eve., July 2, 1876.
"My Dear Mr. Fisher: If you have not started when this reaches you, I pray you leave for Augusta at once. I am very sick, but I know what I am talking about, and it is largely for your sake that I desire to see you, and to see you at once. Don't delay. It may be too late. Don't refuse a sick man. J. G. B."

The Bull Dog Revolver Corps. (Cincinnati Enquirer.)

The police have the names of a large number who came from Kentucky, some of whom are known to have voted in Cincinnati. A squad of men were here from the Black Hills, who were sworn in as deputies, and each one furnished with a bull dog pistol. Indiana was well represented. A Colorado man was among the number, and was recognized by a Third street attorney. Kentucky and Bucktown supplied most of the colored bums. As a matter of fact, thieves, burglars and pickpockets were picked up regardless of where they lived, and it is safe to say that every one of them voted.

Nervousness.

The moment there is danger of impairment of the mind from excessive nervous exhaustion, or where there exists feelings of evil, a desire for solitude, shunning and avoiding company, vertigo and nervous debility, or when insanity has already taken place, PERUNA and MANALIN should be implicitly relied on. But it is never well to wait so long before treatment is commenced. The early symptoms are loss of strength, softness of the muscles, dim or weak sight, peculiar expression of the face and eyes, coated tongue, with impaired digestion; or in others, certain powers only are lost while they are otherwise enjoying comparatively good health. In all these PERUNA and MANALIN should at once be used.

Mrs. S. Smith, Hillsville, Lawrence County, Pa., writes: "Dr. S. B. Hartman & Co., Columbus, O.: I have been a great sufferer for ten years. It seemed as though every organ in my body was diseased at one time or another. I had about given up all hopes, when I commenced taking PERUNA and MANALIN. I immediately began to improve, the soreness and pain disappeared, strength gradually returned, and I am as well as ever in my life, and I owe it all to your PERUNA and MANALIN. I recommended it to my friends and it gives better satisfaction than any other medicine I ever heard of."

Miss Maria Roderick, Warren, Ohio, writes: "It is with pleasure and many thanks that I write to you to tell you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of the PERUNA. I have used several bottles of your PERUNA, and can safely say it has done me a great deal of good. I have improved ever since I commenced its use."

Mr. T. J. Webber, Plymouth, O., writes: "I am selling your PERUNA, and having a good trade on it. It gives excellent satisfaction."

Mr. Thomas Acton, Brooklyn Village, Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I received a severe cold in my foot by tramping on a spike. It inflamed and was painful and swollen. I had every reason to fear local application would do me no good. Your simple suggestions as to local application were followed, and the PERUNA and MANALIN were followed to the letter, and, thanks to you, my foot is entirely well, and I am happy."

BUTCHERED BY A FIEND

Sickening Scene on a Paducah & Memphis Train.

Carved with a Knife in a Horrible Manner and then Hurled from the Moving Train—All Witnessed by Passengers in Mute Silence.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 23.—A passenger who has arrived here tells of a frightful encounter which took place on a Paducah & Memphis train late Sunday evening. A young man named Herman, son of the City Marshal of Dyersburg, Tennessee, boarded the train at that place, being intoxicated. He began annoying and intimidating the passengers by rushing through the coaches flourishing a dagger, looking up, cursing and indulging in the most horrible obscenity. In the rear car the drunken fiend grossly insulted a man named Boone Hudspeth, of Mayfield, Kentucky, who was standing in the aisle conversing with a friend. Hudspeth promptly resented the insult, striking Herman on the head with a pistol, and partially knocking him down. With a muttered curse Herman recovered himself, and with the agility and ferocity of a tiger, attacked Hudspeth with his knife, cutting and slashing his head, face and shoulders in a sickening manner. Hudspeth turned and ran to the rear of the car, followed by the infuriated fiend, with the knife uplifted. The blood from Hudspeth's wounds nearly blinded him. Reaching the platform the victim turned back, and as he was met by the assassin's knife, which penetrated the abdomen of the unfortunate man several inches. Herman then seized the wounded and bleeding man and threw him off the car, the body going through a bridge spanning Forked Deer River, which the train was crossing at the rate of twenty miles an hour. As the train was nearly over, the fall was only about fifteen feet. The train backed up and the man was found nearly dead from loss of blood, but still alive. He was taken to Dyersburg for medical attention. The would-be murderer, after the deed, walked through the train, dared any one to molest him, and has not yet been apprehended. Herman is nineteen years old and his victim twenty-two. The car was filled with stalwart men who dared not interfere with the drunken brute.

TELEGRAPH TROUBLE.

Signal Victory Achieved in Texas by the Baltimore & Ohio.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 23.—The contest between the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company over the attempt of the former to extend its rival system of telegraph lines into Texas has been waged with more or less violence for the past thirty days with results which must be far from acceptable to the great monopoly, and particularly objectionable to Jay Gould, in view of the fact that this is the first case where a competing telegraph line has been able to occupy the right of way of a railroad upon which the Western Union Company claimed exclusive control, and where at the same time Gould controlled the railroad Company. The general telegraph laws of Texas are very favorable to competing telegraph lines, and under those laws the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Company instituted proceedings to condemn a right of way between Texarkana and Sherman over the Texas & Pacific Railroad. The Court awarded the railroad company $10 per mile damages, but gave the Western Union Company nothing. The Baltimore & Ohio Company deposited with the Court the amount of the award and proceeded at once to construct its lines upon the Texas Pacific Road. The Western Union Company then applied to Judge Gaines of the Texas State Court, for an injunction to restrain the Baltimore & Ohio Company from occupying the Texas & Pacific Railroad right of way through Lamar County until the final adjudication of the condemnation proceedings. The injunction has been denied the Court holding that claimants having made an award and the amount being deposited with the Court, the construction of lines could proceed without further delay. The Western Union Company also applied to Judge Gaines for an injunction to restrain the Baltimore & Ohio Company from prosecuting condemnation proceedings in Panola and Red River County; also to Judge Estes for a similar injunction as to Bowie County, on the plea that they should be protected from a multiplicity of suits. The applications have been denied, and the work of construction by the Baltimore & Ohio Company is being pressed rapidly forward, over sixty miles—one-third of the distance to Sherman—having been already completed.

Texas has never had telegraphic competition, and the public is looking anxiously forward to the day when the Baltimore & Ohio lines will be completed and connection made with the present telegraph system of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railroad Company, reaching Dallas, Galveston, Houston, Fort Worth, and other important cities in Texas.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 23.—William Jones and Oswald Johnson were drowned Monday in the Columbia River above Fort Colville. Henry Owens, Johnson and Jones were a party of engineers of the Canadian Pacific Railway. They left McCauley's Ferry, on the Columbia River, in a small skiff to descend the river to Fort Stevens, Washington Territory. The party were out nine days when the boat caught in a whirlpool descending the long rapids, was swamped, and Johnson and Jones drowned. Owens clung to the boat, drifted a long distance and was finally dashed violently on the rocks and knocked senseless and thrown ashore nearly dead. He recovered and managed to reach a settlement, bringing news of the accident.

ATTACKED BY HOGS.
A Little Five-Year-Old Girl Almost Eaten Up.

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 23.—Later particulars of the shocking catastrophe yesterday in the western part of the county are confirmed, and it is now believed that the victim, Edna Allen, aged five years, daughter of Rhodes Allen, will die. She climbed into a hog lot and several sows tore and mutilated her in a horrible manner. One ear was torn off, the left eye was gnawed out, her left arm broken and every stitch of clothing except part of an undershirt, was stripped from her body. Her face and head are badly disfigured. Her brother Roy, aged nine, jumped over the fence to rescue his sister. He, too, was knocked down and slightly hurt. The mother heard the cries of the children and saved them from a horrible death.

Cuticura

A POSITIVE CURE

FOR EVERY FORM OF SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASE, FROM PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

I have had the Psoriasis for nine months. About five months ago I applied to a doctor near Boston, who advised me, but unfortunately I had to leave, but continued taking his medicine for nearly three months, but the disease did not leave. I saw Mr. Carpenter's letter in the Philadelphia Record, and he tried the Cuticura Remedies, using two bottles. Resolvent, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap in proportion, and call myself completely cured. In P. H. H. Waterford, N. J.

ECZEMA TWENTY YEARS.

FRANK C. SWAN, Druggist, Haverhill, Mass.

R. S. HORTON, Myrtle, Miss.
